

NOTICE OF PROBABLE LIABILITYWESTMINSTER VS. CONGRESS

The ancient Israelites made their descendants LIABLE FOREVER to the terms of the Mt Sinai Covenant.

There is probable cause to believe the Israelite Tribe of Ephraim are the ancestors of the "company of nations" known as the United States.

This means that the Mt Sinai Covenant is the SUPERSEDING SOCIAL COMPACT that is determining our fate TODAY.

See:

Deut 28:15,45-46;29:14-15;Deut 30:1-3;Isa 30:15;42:24-25;Ezek 36:22-32;Jer 31:31-33

Furthermore, this liability would apply to EVERYONE dwelling with this tribe, as indicated by the Scriptures showing that all alien races dwelling with these people were also obligated to keep the same TERMS.

See:

Num 15:14-16

nasb.literalword.com/?q=Num+15%3A14-16

Therefore, NOTICE OF PROBABLE LIABILITY is hereby given that EVERYONE in this country may be liable and subject to all of the terms and conditions of the Mt Sinai Covenant.

This means EVERYONE would equally share the blame for all of this country's problems.

This means EVERYONE in this country would be required to keep the Ten Commandments and the Seven Holyday Statutes to avoid the imposition of the agreed-upon Curses cited above.

ALL would be required to keep the letter of the Law of the Mosaic Covenant. Being under the New Covenant is not an exemption, but rather it then makes one liable now to keep both the letter and the spirit of the Law!

2 Kings 22-23 has been provided as an example of a response acceptable to God.

See:

2 Kg 22-23

nasb.literalword.com/?q=2+kg+22-23

And such a forceful and exclusive response is entirely warranted by and in accord with the Law of Nations Book 1 Chapter XII Sections 136-138 as recognized in Article 1 Section 8 of the Constitution of the United States.

CHAPTER XII

If, in spite of the prince's care to preserve the established religion, the entire nation, or the greater part of it, should be disgusted with it, and desire to have it changed, the sovereign cannot do violence to his people, nor constrain them in an affair of this nature. The public religion was established for the safety <61> and advantage of the nation: and, besides its proving inefficacious when it ceases to influence the heart, the sovereign has here no other authority than that which results from the trust reposed in him by the people,—and they have only committed to him that of protecting whatever religion they think proper to profess.

§136. What the prince ought to do when the nation is resolved to change its religion.

But at the same time it is very just that the prince should have the liberty of continuing in the profession of his own religion, without losing his crown. Provided that he protect the religion of the state, this is all that can be required of him. In general, a difference of religion can never make any prince forfeit his claims to the sovereignty, unless a fundamental law ordain it otherwise. The pagan Romans did not cease to obey Constantine,⁴⁰ when he embraced Christianity; nor did the Christians revolt from Julian,⁴¹ after he had quitted it.*

§137. Difference of religion does not deprive a prince of his crown.

We have established liberty of conscience for individuals (§128). However, we have also shewn that the sovereign has a right, and is even under an obligation, to protect and support the religion of the state, and not suffer any person to attempt to corrupt or destroy it,—that he may even, according to circumstances, permit only one kind of public worship throughout the whole country. Let us reconcile those different duties and rights, between which it may be thought that there is some contradiction:—let us, if possible, omit no material argument on so important and delicate a subject.

§138. Duties and rights of the sovereign reconciled with those of the subjects.

If the sovereign will allow the public exercise of only one and the

REMEMBER WHO WE ARE!

Mal 4:4-6

nasb.literalword.com/?q=Mal+4%3A4-6

4 “Remember the law of Moses My servant, even the statutes [holydays] and ordinances which I commanded him in Horeb for all Israel.

5 “Behold, I am going to send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and terrible day of the LORD.

6 He will restore the hearts of the fathers to their children and the hearts of the children to their fathers, so that I will not come and smite the land with a curse.”

Jer 31:35-36

nasb.literalword.com/?q=Jer+31%3A35-36

35 Thus says the LORD, Who gives the sun for light by day And the fixed order of the moon and the stars for light by night, Who stirs up the sea so that its waves roar; The LORD of hosts is His name:

36 “If this fixed order departs From before Me,” declares the LORD, “Then the offspring of Israel also will cease From being a nation before Me forever.”

The survey and boundaries of our nation were set long ago by God. He knows exactly where the Tribe of Ephraim is dwelling today! So should we!

Deut 32:8

nasb.literalword.com/?q=Deut+32%3A8

When the Most High gave the nations their inheritance, When He separated the sons of man, He set the boundaries of the peoples According to the number of the sons of Israel.

Acts 17:26

nasb.literalword.com/?q=Acts+17%3A26

26 and He made from one man every nation of mankind to live on all the face of the earth, having determined their appointed times and the boundaries of their habitation,
